

Missing Part of Halal Supply Chain Management

Ratih Hendayani (Telkom University, Indonesia) and Yudi Fernando (Universiti Malaysia Pahang, Malaysia)

Source Title: Encyclopedia of Information Science and Technology, Fourth Edition

Copyright: © 2018 | Pages: 9

DOI: 10.4018/978-1-5225-2255-3.ch474

Abstract

The increasing Halal product demand in the world made the Halal product industry should make sure all companies operation especially companies supply chain could guarantee product Halalness, so companies supply chain should comply Shariah or Islamic law. Some research about Halal supply chain already publish and give various perspectives about this topic. But unfortunately, there are one important thing that not discuss in previous research about Halal supply chain, the one important things is Islamic financial system that actually can support operation of Halal supply chain because based on the Islamic financial concept, the Halal supply chain can be not Halal or barakah if the supply chain financing not also comply with the Islamic law. For the integrated Halal supply chain, need included the Islamic Financial system, and this chapter will discuss Islamic financial that include in the Halal supply chain such as a Halal fund for the supply chain cost and Halal Financial flow. And bring a new perspective and definition of Halal supply chain management.