ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Alhamdulillah. First of all, I would like to thank my supervisor Dr. Nur Farhayu Binti Ariffin for her professionalism, patience and guidance. I am very fortunate to have benefited from the convergence of her unique expertise. The best parts of this thesis would not have been possible without her inputs.

Then, I would like to thank the questionnaire respondents. It is fortunate that there are people in the industry who support research efforts and have provided quality information.

Also, I would like to thank my father Mohd Fauzi Bin Sulaiman, my mother Rosni Binti Zakaria, my elder brother Muhammad Fadhil, my younger brothers Muhammad Alif and Muhammad Aiman for things that are so great, words fail me. To state it simply but inadequately, they are affection, encouragement, patience, friendship, financial support, and good food.

Last but not least, the moral support of relatives and friends is important. They are uncles, aunties, cousins, close and good friends, seniors, colleagues at UMP, occasional friends, and even strangers who give words of encouragement. However, I would like to particularly mention my roommate Nurul Fajrina Hazirah Binti Azman, and my best friend Nurhidayah Binti Samsuddin who have provided extraordinary moral support to ease my countless episodes of sufferings throughout the process.
