Pekan, 30th March 2019 - The Soft Skills Department had never given up in developing students' soft skills. This time around, the department's program was to help students to change change their attitudes to succeed in academic and as well as pious Muslims. Creating Future Leaders Workshop 2.0 had been held in Kem Azam Training Center on 30, 31 March 2019 with the attendance of 17 students from different faculties.

This program had 9 modules which were brilliantly developed by the trainers, Captain Imaduddin, Madam Haslinda, Dr Anita, Dr Mohd Suhardi and Dr Rohana. The modules covered various elements including spiritual, mental and physical development. Ustaz Nik Azam Nik Wajis who owns Kem Azam Training Center was invited as the guest speaker for the programme and he had surely mesmerised all the participants with his talk on 'Designing Life'.

This program also received positive feedback from the students such as: "I had gained self-motivation and confidence from the program", "I am on a high spirit to study well so that my pointer for the next semester will be better", "I will lessen my sleep, the laziness to study, and will not just give up on something" and "I believe this program is advantageous for students who want motivations for the time to come."

And among all the responses, one student shared a profound feedback which worths to be noted :
"From this program, I realised about lots of things. One of it was that we ourselves could be the main reason for our failures. Other than that, I had never really thought about what would happen to me in the future, but, after joining this program, I now understand that it is crucial for us to plan our life in order to have a promising future. I will put an extra effort to achieve what I have set as targets for my future during the program and besides that, I would also like my family to believe that I can succeed despite the challenges or imperfections along the way. My family are the backbones to my success in life as they are always with me through my ups and downs. I believe that the modules used in the training could give a whole lot of benefit for students who want to multiply their efforts and raise their awareness in various aspects of life."

This program received support from various parties which include the university faculties, Department of Wealth Management and Development (JPPH) and efforts as well as sacrifices from the trainers. We hope that the students involved have benefited a lot from the training.
