He said the Yang di-Pertuan Agong Al-Sultan Abdullah Riayatuddin Al-Mustafa Billah Shah had consented to the use of the UMPSA logo and name according to the Federal Government gazette which came into effect on April 14.

He said the rebranding of the university to UMPSA when it was at the peak of its success coincided with the university's vision of a leading technological university.

Although the name has changed, he said the university's main focus areas, study programmes and enrollment have remained according to the goals of its establishment.
